

Sam Davidson Introduction

Please take a moment to turn your phones to “silent” or “off” and refrain from text messaging during the program in consideration of our speaker and the audience. Thank you.

Hello. My name is _____. I am (position or organization), and I am excited to welcome you. This program is sponsored by (name organizations).

Sam Davidson is a professional speaker, published author, and social entrepreneur. For over a decade, Sam Davidson has been starting companies and helping people launch their big idea into the world. He knows how exciting, powerful, meaningful, tiring, and stressful leading people can be.

When not overseeing his companies (Batch and Cool People Care), Davidson travels and speaks to college students, nonprofit professionals, or business audiences about leadership, entrepreneurship, service, and the impact that each group can have on the world. He lives in Nashville with his wife, daughter, and newborn son.

Please welcome Sam Davidson.
